A photograph of a tree with green leaves and a dark, bloody object hanging from a branch. The object appears to be a piece of meat or a carcass, possibly a bird or small animal, that has been hung from the branch. The background is a dense canopy of green leaves.

A photograph of a dry, dusty landscape with scattered debris and two vehicles in the distance. The ground is brown and uneven, with patches of low-lying green and brown shrubs. In the foreground, there is a yellow ring and a black object. In the middle ground, there is a pile of dark, charred material and some plastic waste, including a blue bottle and a white cup. In the background, two white vehicles are parked on a dirt road. The sky is overcast.
